

Patience required

I know we're all on tenterhooks about news from the HLF Trustees' meeting towards the end of March. However, we have now been notified that is not possible for HLF to make any announcements about the projects considered in March until after the local government elections in early May. As a result we are therefore not in a position to make any further comment ourselves. Patience is in order – on the other hand, there are a few other important things to occupy our minds until the other side of Easter! And meanwhile we'll still be very pleased to receive your commitments to support the congregational part of the project – forms are still available on request from myself or Lynette Maple.

Summer student placement

This week we're interviewing some Museum Studies MA students from the University of Leicester for a summer placement, which will form the final part of their degree. The successful candidate will join us for 6 weeks over the summer helping us organise our archive material better, and with the aim of mounting an exhibition of some of the more interesting material for the early autumn.
